REPORT.

STUDENTS.

DURING the Session 1843–44, the number of Pupils who attended the Classes of the College and the Junior School was 834. The Students in the Faculty of Arts and Laws were 183: of these, 6 entered to the Class of the Professor of English Law alone, and 36 were the attendants on the Classes for Schoolmasters of the Patriot Endowment. The Students of the Faculty of Medicine were 312. The Pupils of the Junior School, 339: 283 being the largest number of boys in the School in any single term. V. p. 12.

The Receipts from Students and Pupils were 13,443*l.* 12*s.*: namely, on account of the Medical Faculty, 7355*l.* 3*s.* 4*d.*; of the Faculty of Arts and Laws, 1985*l.* 18*s.* 8*d.*; of the Junior School, 4102*l.* 10*s.* The distribution of this Fund was as follows:—Among the Professors and Masters, 8115*l.* 0*s.* 8*d.*; to the Hospital Committee, 2545*l.* 5*s.* (making with 254*l.* 15*s.* payments by resident Students, Pupils, &c., 2800*l.* contributed towards the maintenance of the Charity by the Medical School of the College); and to the College Fund, 2783*l.* 6*s.* 4*d.*

In the present Session, as compared with the last, there is an increase of attendants in the Classes of the Medical Faculty. The number of new Students up to the present time is 92; the total is 303: being of new Students 5, and of the aggregate 10, more than the numbers reported at the corresponding period of last year. The Fees amount to 3657*l.* 5*s.* The new entries to the Hospital Practice are now 83: the sum received for Fees is 2005*l.* In the Faculty of Arts the numbers are the same as last year; the new entries to the general Classes being 65, the aggregate 130. An increase in the amount of Fees, which is 2135*l.* 2*s.*, shows that the entries for General Education have been more numerous. The state of the Mathematical Class of Professor De Morgan is highly satisfactory, the increase being from 58 to 80. The number of Schoolmasters and Ushers who are availing themselves of the Patriot Endowment is 27. In the Junior School this term the Pupils are 244; in the corresponding term of last year they were 267.

By the arrangement under which the management of the Junior School was three years ago entrusted to one Head Master, provision was made for an Annual Examination and Report to the Council by Professor Malden and Professor Key, of the state of the School and progress of the Pupils. The Council have now received two such Reports in successive years: the first from Professor Key, and Professor Long acting as the Substitute for Mr. Malden; the second, from Mr. Malden and Mr. Key. These Reports have fully satisfied the Council that the Pupils of this School are well grounded in all the various branches of a liberal and useful Education at a very moderate expense: that the School has and deserves a high reputation for the attainments of the Pupils of the upper classes both in Classics and Mathematics, perhaps more particularly in Mathematics: that a salutary state of discipline and a highly moral character are well preserved without corporal punishment. The Council find the conclusions drawn from these Reports confirmed by the superiority over other Students of the Classes of this College, whether of the Faculty of Arts or of Medicine, generally evinced by young men who have received their earlier training in the Junior School, and by the credit with which Pupils of the School have acquitted themselves on occasions when their acquirements have been put to the test beyond the walls of the College.

DEGREES AND HONOURS.

The Degrees conferred by the University of London in the course of last year were as follows:—3 of Master of Arts, on 1 Candidate from University College, and 2 from another School; 30 of Bachelor of Arts, on Candidates from 12 Colleges or Institutions; and of the 30, 12 were from University College; 1 of Bachelor of Laws, the Candidate from University College; 14 of Doctor of Medicine, on Candidates from 8 Medical Schools,—4 were from University College; and 20 of Bachelor of Medicine, on Candidates from 9 Schools: University College sent up 8. 26 Candidates passed the first Examination for the Degree of B.M., and 79 the Matriculation Examination.

The Prizes awarded for the M.A. Degree were two Gold Medals, of which one was gained by Mr. George Jessel of this College, for his Examination in Mathematics and Natural Philosophy. The two Scholarships and Book Prize at the Examination for Honours after the B.A. Degree, were conferred on Students of this College—the Scholarships on Mr. R. H. Reynolds for Mathematics; Mr. Philip Anstie Smith for Classics; and the Book Prize on Mr. Leonard Field for Chemistry. At the Examination for Honours after the Degree of M.D., two out of four Candidates were from this College, Dr. Ballard and Dr. Raper. The prizes awarded—namely, a Certificate of Special Proficiency in Medicine, a Gold Medal for a Commentary on a Case in Medicine, and a Gold Medal for the Examination for Honours on the subject of Medicine,—were obtained by Dr. Ballard. After the Examination for Honours subsequent to the Degree of M.B., there were awarded three Scholarships and seven Gold Medals: Mr. R. D. Harling, of this College, obtained the Scholarship and Gold Medal in Physiology and Comparative Anatomy, and the Scholarship and Gold Medal in Medicine; Mr. William Timms and Mr. Thomas Edwards, both of this College, the former for his Examination in Surgery, the latter for his Examination in Midwifery, received each a Gold Medal. V. p. 17.

At the Examination for Honours after the First Examination of Candidates for the Degree of M.B., the Prizes were, one Exhibition and two Gold Medals in each of the departments of Anatomy and Physiology, Chemistry, and Materia Medica. Mr. William Cadge, of this College, obtained the Exhibition and Gold Medal in Anatomy and Physiology; and Mr. J. F. Grimsdale, of this College, the Exhibition and Gold Medal in Chemistry.

Within the College, besides the usual distribution of Medals for the Class Examinations, of which an account is contained in the Appendix to this Report, the Assistant-Surgeoncy in the Indian Army, so generously placed at the disposal of the Council by a Director of the East India Company, Mr. Martin T. Smith, was conferred, on the recommendation of Examiners appointed by the Council, on Mr. John Ellerton Stocks: the Flaherty Scholarship in Mathematics and Natural Philosophy for the current Session, has been lately awarded to Mr. Richard Holt Hutton. Under the clauses of the Bye-Laws which empower the Council to bestow life-shares in the College on Students who have graduated with Honours in the University of London, J. G. Greenwood, B.A., C. J. Hargreave, B.L., and C. J. Mackenzie, M.D., have been admitted Members of the College with the title of Fellows.

A list of the Members of the College who have ceded shares for this purpose will be found in the sequel (p. 13).

By a modification of the Gold Medals to be offered for Prizes to Classes of the Medical Faculty, by which they have been made conformable in value with the Medals bestowed by the University of London, the Council has been enabled, without additional expense to the College, to institute an Annual Prize of 40*l.* for General Proficiency. In order that this arrangement might come at once into operation, the cost of altering the Die for the Medals, which would otherwise have absorbed one year's prize, has been contributed by Members of Council.

PROFESSORSHIPS.

Shortly after the announcement made to the last General Meeting of the resignation by Mr. Brooke of the Professorship of Natural Philosophy and Astronomy, an intimation was received, that if the Chair were moderately endowed, the services of his predecessor Mr. Potter might be again obtained for the College. The Council, impressed with the importance of the Professorship, and sensible, from recent experience, of the difficulty of procuring and retaining the services of a gentleman qualified to fill it, at the rate of remuneration afforded by the portion of the fees of Students, and at the same time well-convinced of the competency of their former Professor, resolved on making an Endowment of the Chair in Mr. Potter's favour to the amount of 150*l.* per annum. The proposal of the Council was accepted, and Mr. Potter having resigned his Professorship in Canada, was re-appointed to his post at this College, the duties of which he resumed at the commencement of the present Session. The office of instructing the Students in the Mathematical department of the Class of Natural Philosophy, to the end of the last Session, was discharged by Professor De Morgan.

The Council avail themselves of the present occasion to make a public acknowledgement of their obligation to Professor De Morgan for the extra service so opportunely rendered by him to the College.

The Professorship of Hebrew became vacant towards the end of the last Session in consequence of the death of Mr. Hurwitz. The Rev. D. W. Marks has been appointed Teacher of the Hebrew Language for the present Session. M. Gil de Tejada has been appointed Teacher of the Spanish Language. The Professorships of Civil Engineering and of Geology are both now vacant; the former in consequence of the resignation of Mr. Vignoles, the latter by the death of Mr. Webster. The applications of Candidates are under consideration by the Council and Senate. The vacancy in the Professorship of Chinese has not been filled up.

In the Medical Faculty the Council instituted a Lectureship on Dental Surgery, and appointed to the office Mr. Durancé George, formerly a Student of the College and a Medalist. The office of Curator of the Anatomical Museum, which has been vacant since the resignation of Dr. Carswell, has been filled up by the appointment of

Mr. George Viner Ellis, who has for some years past performed the duties of Demonstrator in Anatomy. At the Hospital a new arrangement has been made for the benefit of the Out-Patients, by the appointment of Dr. Walshe, Professor of Pathological Anatomy in the College, as one of the Physicians to the Hospital, with the especial charge of the Out-Patients. Mr. George, on his appointment to the Lectureship at the College, also undertook the duties of Dental Surgeon to the Hospital.

FINANCES.

In addition to the sum of 2783*l.* 6*s.* 4*d.* before mentioned to have been received as the College portion of the Fees of Students and Pupils, the following sums were carried to the account of the College Fund:—127*l.* 3*s.* 2*d.* unappropriated dividends of invested funds, fees on transfer of shares and a few other items; 882*l.* 4*s.* 6*d.* interest on Mr. Brundrett's Residuary Bequest; and 393*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* from the principal of that Legacy. These sums make together 4185*l.* 16*s.* 6*d.* The disbursements were 3765*l.* 1*s.* 8*d.*, and there was consequently an increase to the amount of 420*l.* 14*s.* 10*d.* in the balances in hand and at the bankers, Messrs. Smith and Co. Of that increase, however, 393*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* belonged to the principal of the Brundrett Legacy. Deducting that sum, there would still remain a balance, and it results that the expenses of the year were, by the aid of the interest accrued since the death of Mr. Brundrett, defrayed without any encroachment on the capital of the College, although those expenses included the whole costs of the proceedings in Chancery to secure the Bacon Legacy, and of the arrangements concerning Mr. Brundrett's estate, as well as the endowment of the Greek and Latin Classes.

The sum received during the year on account of Mr. Brundrett's Bequest was 6682*l.* 4*s.* 6*d.*; of this, 5406*l.* 17*s.* 6*d.* was invested in the purchase of 5500*l.* consols, 393*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* was passed as part of the principal to the College Fund for general purposes, and 882*l.* 4*s.* 6*d.* was applied in the same manner as interest.

By the terms of the arrangement mentioned in the last year's Report, by which the Residuary Bequest of the late Mr. Brundrett to the College and Hospital, with the interest due up to that time, was settled at 21,000*l.*, the balance was to be paid by instalments in four years. The Council have now to announce that the Executors have anticipated these payments, and that the entire sum with the exception of an investment of 2000*l.* Consols to secure the payment of two life annuities, has been paid. The Council, acting in accordance with the directions of Mr. Brundrett's will, that such portion of his Bequest as they might think proper should be applied to general purposes, have devoted 3000*l.* of the principal to removing the Mortgage on the real Estate of the College, by reinstating the Patriot Endowment Fund; and 560*l.*, including the 393*l.* 2*s.* 6*d.* before mentioned, has been employed in improvements to the Building. The real property of the College will be considered as charged with these sums in favour of the Brundrett Fund. The remainder of the Legacy stands invested in 7000*l.* Consols, the dividends of which are to be considered as devoted temporarily towards defraying the Endowments which the Council have found it advisable to attach to the Classes of Latin, Greek, and Natural Philosophy. The Council consider it to be their duty to perpetuate the memory of these munificent benefactions by appropriating a portion of the Fund, and attaching the name of Mr. Brundrett, to a specific Endowment or Endowments, for the promotion of some of the great objects for which the College was instituted. The deliberation necessary in order that such an appropriation may permanently and worthily represent the sense entertained by the Council of the obligations which the College owes to the memory of Mr. Brundrett alone prevents the immediate execution of this design.

The improvements in the Building above mentioned, to provide for which the Council have contemplated the application of a portion of the capital of the College during the present year, are principally two. First, the fitting-up one of the Rooms under the Portico for a Dining-Hall for the Students, the cost of which will be about 180*l*. Second, an important repair in the Upper Theatre on the South side of the College. A defect in the construction of the floors of both the Upper Theatres was discovered soon after the opening of the College. At the North end, the Theatre being required for the use of the large Classes of the Medical Faculty, an immediate remedy was applied; but at the South end of the Building, appropriated to the Faculty of Arts, the occasion for the use of so large a Class-Room being less pressing, the alteration had been allowed to stand over. The evil of having so important a portion of the Building in a useless state however had been long felt: one of its consequences was, that Classes were obliged to assemble in such quick succession in other rooms as to allow no intermediate time for ventilation; the Council therefore took this the first opportunity of having funds at their disposal to cure the remaining defect in the Building, and make the Upper South Theatre available as a Class-Room. The cost has been 400*l*.

THE HOSPITAL.

The condition and prospects of the Hospital are favourable. The mortgage debt incurred in the erection of the edifice has been discharged, and there remain assets to the amount of 4000*l*. Still the yearly expenses, which amount to 4500*l*., exceed the ordinary receipts by 1000*l*. So long as this shall be the case, the utmost exertions of its friends will be required, in order that funds, which should be invested as capital, may not be resorted to for defraying the annual expenditure. It is desirable, moreover, that the Building should be completed; with the view not only of rendering it capable of accommodating a greater number of Patients, but also of making improvements, for which the occasion is more urgent, in the distribution and classification of cases of disease, and in the arrangements for the discharge of the duties of the Medical Officers.

A Dinner Festival in aid of the funds of the Charity will be held on Tuesday the 3rd of June, and the Council have much satisfaction in announcing that Viscount Morpeth has most readily acceded to the request of the Hospital Committee that he would be the Chairman. It is now three years since such an appeal to the Public was made; the Council therefore the more earnestly recommend the Institution to the best exertions of the friends not only of the Charity itself, but of the College at large, and in particular of the Medical School, of which it forms so important a department.

Secretary to the Council.

THE BYE-LAWS RELATING TO FELLOWSHIPS:—CHAPTER I. § 13-17.

13. For the purpose of forming a class of Members from Graduated Students of the College, it shall be lawful for any Proprietor to cede a Share or Shares, either immediately or in reversion, to the College; and a book shall be kept in the office of the College, in which any Proprietor may, by writing signed by him, make such cession. After such signature, either immediately or on the falling in of the reversion, as the case may be, the Share or Shares shall be at the disposal of the Council, for the purpose of which they have been so ceded.

14. It shall be lawful for the Council, by a resolution to that effect, at such times as they shall think fit, to confer any Share so ceded, as aforesaid, on any Student of the College who may have taken a Degree with Honours in the University of London. Immediately on any such resolution being come to by the Council, the Secretary shall enter the Student's name in the Register of Shareholders, next under the name of the preceding holder of the Share intended to be conferred, with the title of "Fellow" appended to the Student's name; and such Student shall thereupon be deemed the holder of such Share, and, in respect thereof, shall become a Proprietor of the College. No fee shall be payable for the registering of any such Fellow.

15. Not more than one-third of the Shares which may be so conferred in any one year shall be conferred on Graduates in Medicine, nor more than two-thirds among the Graduates in Arts and Law.

16. Shares so conferred shall not be capable of transfer or transmission, but shall revert to the College on the death of the possessors thereof, to be again conferred on Graduated Students as before.

17. In case of its appearing on the proceedings of any Court of Justice that a Fellow has been guilty of unbecoming conduct, he may be deprived of his share in the College; but no Fellow shall be so deprived, except in the following manner. The Council must have referred the case to be inquired into by the Commitee of Management, who, after inquiry, must have reported thereon to the Council. A Meeting of the Council must have been convened to consider such report by a notice of not less than ten days, and the major part, being in number not less than nine, of the Members of Council present at such Meeting, and voting on the question of the Fellow's deprivation, must have voted that he be so deprived.
